Heart and Soul?

If there ever was a Jeckyll and Hyde team award It would have to go to the Black Ballers. This team was built last year to contend for titles. They had a good season last year but faded at the end to finish in 10th place.

Right now they are mired in mediocrity at 18-18. This is good for 6th place in the Ernie McCracken division.

They have all the pieces to do some damage in the league. The Captain of the team Carl Baker, is averaging the same as last year (172). A top-tier anchor in Marques Edge, who so far is 1 pin lower than last year at 179. The Wild Card, Marcus Matthews, who is struggling (138, -6) and remain titleless. As the full

No Lewis = No Chance at a title

The Heart and Soul of the team, Jesse Lewis III who is above average by 6 pins from last year. After looking over 9 weeks of numbers, I noticed a pattern that will cause the Black Ballers to them to stick with the higher average teams and easily beat the lower average teams. Who will show up this week, Jeckyll or Hyde. They just hope JLIII doesn't miss anymore time.

screen shows Jesse Lewis is really the difference maker on this team. Even if Jesse has a sub-par night as he did 2 weeks ago (-19) his team responds to him being there. The teams make up should allow ESPN shows well at Mixed Tourney!

Thanks to the group that entered the 2013-14 Greater Central Connecticut USBC Mixed Tournament. The ESPN teams 1 and 2 had a good showing in both Team and Doubles events. Team ESPN 1 which consisted of Deb George, Brian Bell, Danielle Cranin and Chris Rossi finished in 3rd place out of 30 teams. They just missed out on second place by 7 pins. Team ESPN 2 will win some money as well as they finished in 13th place. Congrats to Mike Gallo, Marci Dionne, Janice Glanovsky and Chris Chiaraluci. As far as the Doubles Event goes, 1173 was the low-to-cash score, and everyone was better than that. Janice Glanovsky/Brian Bell (1354) did the best with a 31st place finish. In 34th place was Marci Dionne/Chris Chiaraluci (1344). Next was Danielle Cranin/Chris Rossi with a 38th place (1337). Deb George and Mike Gallo (1313) finished in 49th place.

The next tournaments are the 8th Annual Men's and Women's Open Division Championship in February (Singles, Doubles and Team). The Mail in entry date has passed so only walk-ins will be accepted. There is a chance that one can still be locked out based on lane availability. Both tournaments will be held at Laurel Lanes in Plainville. Each event costs $30. Dates are Feb 1, 2, 8, 9, 15, 16. Times are 8:30am and 3:00pm (Singles) 10:00am and 4:30pm (Doubles), Noon (Team). If there is any interest in these tournaments please contact Chris Rossi.

The Good, Bad and Ugly

Good, Bad and Ugly movie poster

Slim pickin's again this week for the Good, Bad and Ugly award. Leaguers either bowled really good or really bad. There were not many in-betweeners. Only 14 bowlers had the numbers to compete for the GBU. There were a couple of scores that caught my eye.

I could have busted some chops with the commissioner Rich Faber as he was eligible, but I thought adding this to being eliminated would be too much for him to bear. I could have gone with Chris Duffy, who single handedly, defeated my team a couple weeks ago with career high games and series. But I had to go with a newcomer James Richards on Wrecking Balls. He holds a 114 average and as most of you know egregiously bad scores are those that are under 100. Richard's good game was his first game (127). He finished off the night with his bad game of 99. He sandwiched his ugly game of 89. in there for a 315 series. Congratulations Richard on your first GBU win.

Eliminator

Here is the result for week 6.

Nick Hagen shot a 595 for his 3 game set. Our 2nd person eliminate, Jeremy Slone, averaging 195, couldn't put it together and ended with a 613 series with handicap. A sorry performance from commissioner Rich Faber shooting a 398 actual. Sorry Maura, but its hard to bowl 42 pins under average when one's average is 82. Aaron Coleman's good season hit a snag as he couldn't escape elimination. Narrowly missing elimination were Chris Duffy (by 7 pins), and Andy Peterson (by 9 pins)

Week 8 will see TEN bowlers fall.
